

Glastonbury Little League Jim Goodwin Memorial Minors Summer Camp “The Baseball Factory”

This Baseball camp is intended for players who played Minor League baseball during the regular season. It is designed to teach and enhance baseball fundamental and some advanced skills required to play Minors and is preparatory for Major league play.

The camp is held at the Butler Fields on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays starting on Monday, July 7. It will end on Friday, July 25 at Ross Field. All sessions begin at 6:00pm sharp. Players are requested to arrive a few minutes early to facilitate group assignments for each session. Attempts will be made to make up any rained out sessions before July 25

The Camp is conducted by Glastonbury Little League coaches, former graduate players and guest GHS coaches. Skills stations are used extensively and participants will experience 7-9 different skills every session. Sessions will end with scrimmage games where the progress of participants is evaluated. There will be contests, prizes and trophies. Shirts, hats and all equipment are provided.

The registration fee is $45 and is non-refundable after May 31

Call Camp Director, Don Longtin at 643-9165 or email little.league01@snet.net for further information

*“One of the best baseball clinics in the area” GHS Coach, Ken Soucy
“A great baseball teaching bargain” Jim Wawruck, former pro player*